Identification of Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND)
How do The Schools of	At Woolton Hill Junior School we follow the Special educational needs and disability code of practice 2015 guidance for identification. The code of practice (2015) states that special educational needs

Woolton Hill
know if children
need extra help and what do I do if I think my child has special
needs?

refers to those learners who have “significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age” and for those who require a “special educational provision to be made” for them. The code also refers to those who have a disability which can make it more difficult for them to make use of the educational facilities available to their peers (pages 15 and 16).

There is a graduated approach to support which is summaries by this diagram:

‘Ordinarily Available Provision’ refers to the baseline support and adjustments that all mainstream schools are expected to provide for all learners, including those with SEND, using their own funding and resources. This includes simple, routine changes to teaching and the learning environment that are considered good practice for all pupils but are particularly important for removing barriers for children with SEND.

Class teachers ongoing monitoring can identify children whose progress:

- Is significantly slower than that of their peers starting from the same baseline.
- Fails to match or better the child’s previous rate of progress.
- Fails to close the attainment gap between the child and their peers. Widens the attainment gap.

Pupils are identified in a range of ways:

- Early identification and intervention.
- Transition meetings between pre-schools, Infant and Junior School.
- Parental Concern
- Teacher Identification
- Professional diagnosis
- Involvement of outside agencies including: Speech and Language Therapy, Educational Psychologist Service, Hearing Impairment Teacher, CAMHS (Child and Adolescence Mental Health Service).
- Through data analysis and continued monitoring of progress.
- Impact of school based interventions.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Use of interpreters to support pupils with EAL (English as an Additional Language) and potential SEND (Special Educational Needs). We take note of the 4 broad areas of need: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Communication and Interaction. • Cognition and Learning. • Social, emotional and mental health difficulties. • Sensory and/or physical difficulties. Our aim is to work in partnership, parents, children and professionals to support the needs of a child. Parents are encouraged to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Initially contact your child's class teacher and discuss your concerns. The Class Teacher knows each child in their class well and will be able to discuss your child's progress and possible needs in depth. • Contact SENDCO (Special Educational Needs and Disabilities Co-ordinator). The SENDCO works in collaboration with Class Teachers to ensure children's needs are being met. The SENDCO can observe and assess children where a concern has been raised by parents or teachers. The SENDCO also oversees progress of children with SEND. • Contact GP (General Practitioner). Occasionally a GP can make referrals to different health services, for example CAMHS and Right to Choose. Your GP may also be able to offer support for your family.
Support for children with special educational needs
If my child is identified as having SEND, who will oversee and plan their education programme?	Every Teacher is a teacher of children with SEND. Quality first teaching, adaptation and 'ordinarily available provision' meet the needs of a child on a daily basis. The School SENDCO has an "umbrella" role to oversee all provision for pupils with SEND. Class Teachers have a responsibility for day-to-day provision. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Class teacher in collaboration with School SENDCO will discuss a child's areas of need, agree and form a personal plan (we call these a Passport to Success). • Parents are involved in agreeing and reviewing Passport to Success. • Passport to Success are reviewed termly or more frequently if appropriate. Where appropriate children are involved in the review process with teachers and SENDCO. • SENDCO, class teachers' and parents liaise with outside agencies and professional to ensure the best provision is in place. • The Class teacher, in liaison with colleagues, may also provide a school based strategy card (defining approaches which work best for the child).

How will I be informed / consulted about the ways in which my child is being supported?	Upon joining The Schools of Woolton Hill parents and professionals are invited to a transition meeting to plan a joint approach. This may include additional school visits, meetings with the class teacher and SENDCO. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Termly or more frequent meeting to discuss a child's progress can be arranged. • Informal meetings with teachers at an agreed time to discuss needs. • Termly review and Passport to Success documentation. • Pupils with an EHCP (Education, Health Care Plan) will have an annual review/transition meeting at key points in the year.
How will the school balance my child's need for support with developing their independence?	The Schools of Woolton Hill are committed to providing inclusive practice within main- stream environment. Reasonable adjustments are made to ensure inclusion. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Provision is carefully planned with a child's need at the forefront. • Where appropriate additional interventions/learning programmes are timetabled these can be 1-1, small group, in or out of class. • Independence is achieved through careful management of support from the class teacher and SENDCO. • Children are given every opportunity to succeed independently. • Where teaching assistants support a child they encourage independence.
How will the school match / adapt the curriculum for my child's needs?	All children are assessed using a range of assessment tools. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Appropriate interventions approaches are offered. • Class teachers adapt planning to remove barriers and cater for children's individual needs. • We follow the process of assess, plan, do and review in collaboration with staff and outside agencies (where necessary).
What additional staffing does the school provide from its own budget for children with SEND?	We encourage children to be independent learners and can make reasonable adjustments to a child's provision to support. Additional staffing could be provided if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Education Health Care Plans (EHCPs) outline a need for additional adult support and hours are funded by Hampshire SEN Department and the school. • Some adults are trained in delivering interventions across the school and children with Special Educational Needs may take part in these school-based interventions.
What resources and equipment does the school provide for	We are an inclusive school and have a range of resources we can draw from. 'Ordinarily available provision' can be grouped under these broad categories: learning spaces, pedagogical principles, and visual support. This is offered at a universal and then targeted level. If monitoring shows that a learner

children with SEND?	is not making progress, despite consistent application of ordinarily available provision, this suggests that there could be a need requiring further investigation. Examples of provision can be found here: https://search3.openobjects.com/mediamanager/hampshire/directory/files/oap_and_send_support_-_march_2025.pdf
What special arrangements can be made for my child when taking examinations?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Arrangements can be made for pupils to be in a small teaching room with a teaching assistant either 1:1 or in a small group. • Extra time to complete an examination can be applied for. • Movement/rest breaks can be applied if pupils require this intervention and this is a part of their regular day-to-day routine. • Specific resources, for example a paper specially designed for visual impairment. • Support by a reader or scribe can be applied for if this is common practice for the child.
What specific intervention programmes does the school offer to children with SEND and are these delivered on a one to one basis or in small groups?	One to one interventions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Individual Reading/Priority reading • Targeted, specific interventions planned by the Class Teacher (Phonics, English, Maths and Reading). • Emotional Literacy Support (ELSA). • Online programmes for individuals; Nessy Reading and Spelling, Numbots. Small group interventions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Targeted, specific interventions planned by the Class Teacher (Phonics, English, Maths and Reading). • Social Skills (Socially Speaking, Talk About, Lego Therapy, Circle of Friends, lead by ELSA). • Ready to learn group (Acorns). Boundaries, resilience, focus, respect, self-regulation and independence • Sensory Circuits. • Fine motor control (Clever Hands). • Gross motor control (Clever Bodies).
My child's progress
How will the schools monitor my child's progress and how will I be involved in this?	Parents are fully informed of all progress. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Class teachers monitor pupils' progress and attainment towards targets on a daily basis. • Achievement is measured termly and yearly either by teacher assessment or assessment tasks. • Achievements are shared with SENDCO and Senior Leadership team in Pupil Progress meetings.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Provision is reviewed and next steps are agreed by the class teacher. Targets on a child's Passports to Success are reviewed/written termly. • Progress is fed back to parents at termly parent's evenings (learning conversations) and through Personal Plan planning and review meetings. • Parents work in partnership with school and outside agencies as appropriate. • The child is involved and their views sought.
When my child's progress is being reviewed, how will new targets be set and how will I be involved?	Progress is reviewed by class teacher at Pupil Progress Meetings termly with senior leaders. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Recommendations for next steps, targets and provision are made. • Parents are involved in 'Learning Conversations'. They are informed of progress and encouraged and informed on how to support further learning needs. • Parents are invited to meet with the Class Teacher to review their child's Passport to Success and plan next steps. • The child's views are sought on what helps and hinders their progress.
What arrangements does the school have for regular home to school contact?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Pupils have a reading diary that parents and pupils can record their reading and or other learning needs. • Teachers sometimes send home brief notes to say how well a child has achieved or contributed in class. • Children may occasionally bring home certificates to reward good choices and achievements. • Parents are invited into school to meet with outside agencies and professionals that are involved in their child's care. • Copies of all reports made by outside agencies and professionals are sent home. • We ask that parents share medical reports/professional reports about their child. • Meetings can be held involving the child.
How can I help support my child's learning?	Parents/ carers can support their children by reading regularly, practicing phonics/spellings and number skills/multiplications tables. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Parents can support their child to complete home learning set weekly and support their child to do regular practice on online learning platforms (e.g. Numbots, TTRS, Nessy). • Passports to Success suggest opportunities and ideas for parents on how to support their child's individual and on-going needs. • Parents can also share their expertise with the school, to help build a picture of their child's needs.
Does the school offer any help	School based parents' evenings and curriculum events offer support.

for parents / carers to enable them to support their child's learning, eg. training or learning events?	The school website has lots of links and useful information for parents: https://www.schoolsofwooltonhill.com/wellbeingandfamilysupport <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The school's SENDCO may work alongside parents to identify training needs and signpost suitable courses. • Parents can be given information on useful websites or support groups they can access. • Parents can be signposted/referred to professionals that offer more support.
How will my child's views be sought about the help they are getting and the progress they are making?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The view of the child is important to us as a school. They are involved in review meetings by seeking views and being present at the meetings. • Children are encouraged to be independent and are encouraged to self-assess, share success and suggest next steps.
How does the school assess the overall effectiveness of its SEN provision and how can parents / carers and young people take part in this evaluation?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Class teachers have termly Pupil Performance Meetings with Senior Leaders – pupil achievement is evaluated against interventions that they have taken part in – parents do not participate in this meeting as a range of pupils are discussed. • Children's views are sought about what helps/hinders their progress. • Pupils with an EHCP will have an annual review with all agencies working with. • Parents are fully involved in EHCP review meetings. The schools SEND governor is involved in the views of children with SEN about their progress. • The SENDCO is responsible for tracking the progress of children with SEN and assessing the impact interventions have across the school. • The SENDCO is part of the SLT (Senior Leadership Team) and monitor SEN provision and resources.
